DON'T GORGE YOURSELF.

Some Sound Advice on the Subject of Food and Feeding.

The vast majority of people are absolutely wrong on the subject of feeding. They think that rich and luxurious people, feeding on the richest and most luxurious foods, are the most fortunate and healthy people. I assure you it is just the reverse. I am the director of an insurance company and am obliged often to force my estimates of the commercial value of life. If, then, two persons of the same age and constitutional build come for calculation as to the monetary value of their future lives, and if one be rich and luxurious and the other be competent and frugal, frugal even to abstemiousness, I would value the life of the frugal person as 80 per cent at least better than that of the rich and luxurious person.

Dives dies in plenty, Lazarus in poverty. Do not die like Lazarus if you can help it, and do not die like Dives if you have the opportunity, but find the happy condition, easy enough to find if you determine to learn how on least food you can do the most and best work. Never eat until you are satiated, never eat in the day one heavy meal, but divide your food into three light meals, equally distributed as to time and quantity. Eat slowly, take small mouthfuls, masticate, or chew, your food well, touch your food with your fingers as little as possible, do not cry out for animal food more than twice a day at most, have all animal food well cooked and do not forget fruit as food.

In Queen Elizabeth's time the orange, the golden fruit of the Hesperides, might find its way to the queen's table, but such fruit was indeed scarce. Joins of meat were cut up with the grill of pepper and the end of the joint to hold by, for forks being unknown, and her loyal subjects, a short lived race, knowing little how to make the most of life in the matter of feeding and drinking, suffered from diseases which were of the most avoidable as well as objectionable character. We, fortunately, live in a different reign. We have fruit galore and have clean forks, instead of dirty fingers, to raise our food with, two advantages equally sweet and wholesome, though so different in kind.—Sir B. W. Richardson in Lancet's Magazine

Do You Play by Note?

"Do you play by note?" inquired one of the summer residents of Blueville of the violinist of the "Berry Corners" orchestra, "which had been discussing car piercing strains at a lawn party."

"Never a note do I play by note," replied Mr. Flaherty, mopping his heated brow with a handkerchief of sauginary hue.

"Ah, by ear, then?" said the summer resident, with a smile of gracious interest.

"Nivver an ear hips me, yer honor," responded Mr. Flaherty, returning his handkerchief to his capacious pocket.

"Indeed! May I ask how you—what you do play by, then?" persisted the inquirer.

"By main strin'th, be jabbers," said Mr. Flaherty, with a weary air, as he plugged his ancient instrument into its green bag. "An it's moighty dry wurk, an that's thruth, sorr."—Youth's Companion.

A Real Saving.

The Lady Shopper—What? Pay $2 for a lamp like that? It's outrageous, and I won't pay it.

The Astute Salesman—You forget, madam, that the price has been reduced to $1.99.

The Lady Shopper (reaching for her purse)—Oh, very well then. I'll take it.—Chicago Record.

Gustatory.

"I can't say," remarked the sword swallower as he dispatched a Damascus blade, "that I especially like the taste of foreign foods."

"Their dishes," rejoined the glass eater, who was partaking of a Venetian soup tureen, "are, as a rule, far from pleasing."

The human salamander tossed off three fingers of imported red fire, with a gasoline chaser, but said nothing.—Detroit Tribune.

The great Christian feast of Christmas, Easter, Ascension and Whit Sunday are said to have been ordered to be observed by the whole church all over the world as early as the close of the first century.

Through Algerian Spectacles.

In a delightful paper before a club recently Mrs. Fannie C. Barbour, the writer and traveler, gave a description of her visit to some Algerian ladies. Through the interpreting friend who accompanied her the hostesses conveyed their polite pity at her extraordinary costume. "Whore," they asked in plaintive pity for the unfortunate American, "are her Turkish trousers?" When told that she came from America, they asked where that was, and on hearing that it was across a great sea complacently remarked: "Not so great as our Mediterranean. There is no sea like that."

Health and Morality.

He who recklessly injures his health does not prove his unselfishness—he simply curtails his powers of doing good. And he who injures his character by welcoming evil influences is thereby inflicting a still greater evil upon the community.—Exchange.

Dr. PIERCE'S Golden Medical DISCOVERY

Cures Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of Consumption, in all its Earlier Stages.

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce expectorations from the lungs, severe hemorrhages with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You can make our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in representing them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. "Nasty cough, liver oil, and its fifty 'emulsions' and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps.

Sickrooms.

A medical journal urges, sensibly enough, that in the present extravagant expenditure in house building a little money should be laid out in arranging for a sickroom, built on the sunny side and equipped with at least the simple means for isolation and care of a sick person. Ventilation should be well considered. The walls should be of washable material—painted (if covered with waterproof paper). The plumbing should be out of the convenient to it. A little of the time and money invested in libraries, ballrooms and oriental parlors spent on an apartment whose use in an emergency not unusual to frail humanity may insure the comfort and safety to the family that is necessary to the enjoyment of the more luxurious rooms.

English Women's Shoes.

English women are teaching American women some important facts about footwear. We know today that a touch of patent leather removes the shoe from street use, except in case of waiting and from afternoon teas and landings. That only soft and pliant leathers are the proper ones; that low shoes are to be reserved for summer wear; that spurs are not good form, except for men, and that heavy shoes are the smart thing for the

AN INJUSTICE TO THE TAXPAYERS

The State of Nevada has a population of less than 45,000, including Whites and Chinese, according to the best information obtainable. The taxable property of the State in 1894, according to the reports of County Assessors, is $23,628,720.40, a falling off of nearly $3,000,000 as compared with the year 1893. The estimated expenditures under appropriations to be made for 1895-96 amount to $377,599.88. The estimated revenues for the same period amount to $367,102.64, showing an excess of expenditures over receipts of $10,497.24. In the estimate of expenditures for the Legislature the amount is set down at $27,500. The Legislature appropriation bill exceeded that amount by $2,500. While this is less than one-half the appropriation made for some sessions of the Legislature, it is all that the taxpayers can stand in the present depressed condition of the mining and agricultural interests of the State.

The Constitution limits the regular sessions of the Legislature to sixty days. The people hoped and expected that the present session would end in fifty days. That hope may yet be realized, but the action of the Assembly indicates a disposition on the part of that branch of the Legislature to remain in session the full time allowed by the Constitution. If such is the intention of the House the Senate should prevent it. The financial condition of the State does not warrant it and the business to be transacted by the Legislature does not justify it. The people cannot afford to be taxed to extend the holiday of members of the Legislature. Early in the session no business was transacted from Fridays to Mondays. This was excusable, to some extent, as committees had to give time to the consideration of bills referred to them for examination. There is no apparent excuse, however, for prolonging the session beyond fifty days, and every member who has the slightest regard for his oath and the interests of his constituents will oppose it, though he incur the displeasure of lobbyists and attaches, who are not responsible to the people, by doing so.

There are many respectable and responsible members of the Legislature. It will compare favorably in points of intelligence and ability with any similar body in the State, but many of the members are inexperienced in legislative matters and are doubtless misled by designing persons. No member of the Legislature who expects to remain in the State and be in a position to look his constituents squarely in the face should vote or in any way countenance a scheme to prolong the session to the Constitutional limit.

THE DIVISION BILL DEFEATED

The bill to polandize Washoe county was indefinitely postponed in the Senate yesterday by a vote of 10 to 4. This disposes of the proposition for this session, and probably for all time. The bill was one of the most unjust that was ever given consideration in a legislative body. It did not have the support of the best element of Storey county. The people of Lyon repudiated it and disclaimed all connection with the scheme. It was conceived in the lobby with the hope that Washoe would expend money to defeat it. This hope was not realized, but the bill passed the House, nevertheless, by a vote of 17 to 13, and a motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed was defeated.

Well informed persons never for a moment believed that the bill would pass the Senate. The members of that body are self-respecting and are not disposed to partition this or any other county without particularly benefiting any other section and they indefinitely postponed the bill by a majority of nearly three to one, considering that Mr. Wise, who would have voted against it, was absent on account of sickness.

THE IDAHO SENATORSHIP

The Idaho Legislature, which has been balloting for United States Senator since it convened two months ago, has elected George L. Shoup to succeed himself. The Legislature stood 39 Republicans to 15 Populists on joint ballot. Shoup and Sweet were the Republican candidates and Claggett the Populist nominee. The Republicans were very nearly equally divided between Shoup and Sweet, but the deadlock was broken by seven of the Sweet men voting for Shoup, who received 27 votes to 12 for Sweet. The Populists changed their vote from Claggett to Shoup, who received 14 votes on the decisive ballot, one of the Populists being absent.

Like the Oregon Legislature, the Idaho Legislature neglected legislation of importance to the State and devoted the greater part of its time to the Senatorship. As the State Treasury is not plethoric and the solons do not care to give their services to the State for time checks it is not probable that an extra session will be held.

SENATOR FAIR'S MENTAL CONDITION

The question Was the late James G. Fair insane? is now up for solution in the Courts at Los Angeles, California. The investigation discloses some strange facts, one of which is that Fair took a fancy to a handsome young woman who traveled with him as his guest on one of his trips down the Colorado from Yuma. The evidence shows that the millionaire paid particular attention to the young lady, but his advances were not reciprocated. On one occasion he tendered a pair of diamond earrings and a $500 check for a chaste salute of the lips, but the offer was scornfully rejected. The evidence also shows that the ex-Senator was a deep drinker. His regular daily allowance was two bottles of choice old bourbon. While under spirituous influence he did very strange things, which may or may not influence a jury in determining his sanity.

INTERNATIONAL MONEY.

It is a scheme in the interests of the Foreign Bondholders.

The kind of money that the people of the United States need is money that will circulate at home, and not be subject to the demands of the foreign bondholders. Money originally was intended to be used as a medium to facilitate the exchange of commodities, but of late years its principle use has been to enrich bondholders.

If we concede the demands of the foreign money kings, who are in league with our own goldbugs, and retire the greenbacks and silver currency from circulation, then the bondholders who hold the first mortgage on the United States will own it, for there is not gold enough in this country to pay one-half of the National debt.

On the other hand, if we have an International Conference to fix the ratio of silver for coinage, the International bondholders will dictate the ratio and restrictions, and Uncle Sam will get worsted in the transaction, as he has in every trade that he ever made with the bondholders. The only proper course for Uncle Sam to pursue is to assert his independence and coin gold and silver at his own ratio, and what the gold and silver lacks in giving the people a sufficiency of money make up in greenbacks.

This Government is under no moral obligations to the International money kings. They withdrew their gold from circulation at the beginning of the war, and the country was run on a greenback basis from 1862 up to 1876. Let Uncle Sam assert his manhood and declare for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and enough greenbacks to restore prosperity among the people. Beware of the International bondholders, their thirst for plunder cannot be appeased. FARMER.

INDIANS MURDERED.

Four of them Found Dead in a Wickiup.

Senator Richards, of Lander county, received a letter from home yesterday, which gave the information that the dead bodies of four Indians had been found in a wickiup in Kingstons Canyon in Smoky Valley, Lander county, twenty-eight miles from Austin.

It appears that a squaw named "Charlie" Cox, who worked for Mrs. Spencer as a cook, took her two children about ten days ago, and said she was going to visit some friends and relations in Smoky Valley. She also had some business with an Indian known as "Dummy." She did not return as was expected, and rumors reached Austin that there had been some trouble in a camp in Kingstons Canyon. Parties who left Austin last Thursday, returned on Friday with the information that the squaw, her two children and the Indian known as "Dummy" were found in the canyon all killed, and had the appearance of having been dead over twenty-four hours.

Dummy's skull had been split with an ax, and the woman and children shot through and through, and their skulls crushed in. Dummy's body was in the wickiup, and the others outside. The woman had evidently made a fight for her children's lives, as well as her own. As there was evidence of a protracted struggle about their wickiup. At the time the letter was written from Austin, full particulars were not attained, and there was no clue to the parties who did the killing. The Sheriff has started for the scene of the killing, and a band of Indians have also gone out.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

One of Jack Godfrey's Little Twin Girls Has a Leg Broken.

Yesterday afternoon one of Jack Godfrey's little twin daughters met with a serious accident. It seems that the twins, with other little companions, were playing in a neighbor's yard and were climbing upon or swinging on a barn door, when the door became unhinged and fell and caught one of the little girls under it. Her companions tried to assist her and her cries brought help and she was carried home. Dr. Thomas was summoned, and found that the little girl had sustained a serious fracture of one of her legs above the knee. The doctor immediately made the little one comfortable and at a late hour last night she was resting easy and no serious results are anticipated. It is expected that in a few weeks she will be as well and lively as ever.

FRANCIS WRIGHT, Teacher.

IT CURES DISEASE!

The Medical Profession Endorses Paine's Celery Compound.

This is from the writer of the prize thesis on Original Research, awarded by the Medical Chirurgical College in 1892, and published by the American Medical Press company of Philadelphia:

In torpidity of the liver and nervous debility and kidney disorders, Paine's Celery Compound acts like a charm, restoring the general nervous system and these organs to their normal activity very speedily. It is of estimable value, and possesses a wider range of action by far than any of its kindred remedies.

Very Truly Yours,

Odesa, Del., Dec. 26, 1894

Awarded the Contract.

The Board of Commissioners occupied the greater portion of the day yesterday in considering the propositions filed for supervising the County Poor Farm for two years from the 1st of April, 1895. Ten bids were submitted, and all were carefully considered. Figures were made on the several bids from different standpoints, and the Board and District Attorney finally inspected the hospital bills for the last year. No decision was reached and a recess was taken until last evening. On re-assembling the details of the institution and the different propositions for carrying it on were discussed. Mr. O. W. Ayer's offer was accepted and the contract awarded to him.

Mr. Ayer has, for the past two years, conscientiously endeavored to conduct the affairs of the Hospital economically and as far as possible to the interests of the taxpayers and comfort and welfare of the inmates. He has from time to time received the approval of the Board of Commissioners, and has withstood the searching scrutiny of two or three Grand Jury committees. With the experience he has gained in the past two years, he is better fitted to conduct the Poor Farm than he was when he first took charge and is certainly more conversant with its requirements than a new man would be. He has doubtless considered the necessities and must know the figures required for properly carrying it on. His appointment will give general satisfaction and the taxpayers may be assured that the indigents will receive humane and courteous treatment.

To The Ladies.

Jolly Nellie McHenry's engagement in your city will be one long to be remembered. Her new play "A Night at the Circus" is better fitted to her purpose than any which she previously had. Her mannerism, her peculiarities, her tricks of speech and action—in fact the Jolly Nellie McHenry-ism—without the chief charm of her performance would be wanting, fit into the play without causing crease or wrinkle, excepting always the wrinkles born of laughter. After all, the play is secondary; Jolly Nellie McHenry with her drollery, her dash, is the attraction. She has always won her success by hard work and true merit, and is therefore honored and respected by all who know her. From the time she trips upon the stage till she leaves it, she is the impersonation of all that is winsome and lovable; men women and children alike are carried away by her archness.

Miss Benjamin's Death.

Grace A. Benjamin, a young girl, was suffocated by gas in the bath room of a San Francisco lodging house. The apartments in which the girl was found had belonged to A. S. Meyer. Meyer was summoned to appear before the Coroner's Jury, but he could not be found, and one of the jurors refused to sign the verdict that death was accidental.

Now it has been ascertained that the records of the Clerk's office in Alameda county show that Meyer and Miss Benjamin were married. The wedding took place in Oakland last August, and several of the girl's friends knew of it, but were pledged to secrecy, as her husband had another wife in the East whom he had seduced for a divorce. This sheds new light on the case and it is possible that the death of Miss Benjamin might not have been accidental.

Federal Relations.

By Denton, A. B. No. 133—Amendatory of Act reducing and regulating salaries and compensations of certain State officers and attaches, and to repeal the Act limiting the duration of the legislative session. Ways and Means.

By Beck, A. B. No. 131—To fix the levy—90 cents on the $100—and to distribute the same to the proper fund. Ways and Means.

By Richards, S. B. No. 37—To define the duties and compensation of the Lieutenant Governor when acting as an ex-officio State officer. Indefinitely postponed.

By Summerfield, S. B. No. 73—To aid and encourage the holding of a department encampment of the Department of California and Nevada. Military and Indian Affairs.

At 11:40 recess was taken till 2 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Special order—The Probate bill. Was postponed until 2 P. M. on Saturday.

On motion of Beck the House now resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, Francis in the Chair, to consider S. B. No. 60—the General Appropriation bill—and S. B. No. 67—the Insane Asylum Annex bill.

Gorman moved that when the committee advise it recommend that S. B. No. 60 be made special order for next Thursday at 3 P. M.

Beck opposed the motion. He said the law prescribed that the Legislature should not hold session after next Monday, and to adjourn without passing the Appropriation bill would necessitate the calling of an extra session, which would be a disgrace to the Speaker, the Ways and Means Committee and every member of the Assembly.

McNaughten spoke in opposition to the motion.

Gorman didn't propose to be dictated to, and was willing to meet his constituents upon his action in extending the session beyond the fifty days limit.

Hogan and Flannigan spoke against the motion.

Denton didn't propose to be dictated to by the other end of the Capitol. There had been a scheme to force this Assembly to do a thing which he, for one, didn't propose to do. There were bills to be acted upon within the fifty days, and he didn't propose that there should be an adjournment until the necessary legislation was completed.

Beck said if this motion carried and was adopted by the House the Governor would have no other recourse except to call an extra session, which would cost from $15,000 to $20,000.

Allen of Eureka favored the motion. There was necessary legislation to be consummated, and the Legislature had no right to adjourn until it was done.

Denton had previously moved to amend the motion so as to make it special order for Monday at 3 P. M.

The vote on Denton's amendment carried—18 to 11, and so the recommendation was made that the bill be made special order for Monday at 3 P. M.

This settles the matter in regard to the fifty days session.

If the Senate does not pass A. B. No. 133 there must be a special session or there will be no provision made for carrying on the State Government for the next two years.

The Chairman ruled that the Committee had no further control of the bill, and its further reading was dispensed with.

S. B. No. 67—The Annex bill—was considered and its passage recommended.

In regular session Beck spoke against the adoption of the report of the Committee of the Whole. There was no attempt to "jam" this Assembly, but there appeared to be a disposition in this body to "jam" a session of more than the fifty days, the statutory limit. If a special session is made necessary, on this House would rest the responsibility. He called for a division on the question as between the report on the two bills Nos. 60 and 67.

Denton and Gorman spoke in favor of adoption.

On making the bill special order for Monday the vote stood as follows:

Ayes—Allen of Eureka, Beals, Briggs, Brookline, Conbois, Constant, Court, Denton, Gorman, Greenwood, Hall, Hinman, Murphy, McNaughten, Newman, Wieland—16.

Nays—Beck, Coryell, Flannigan, Francis, Hogan, Leidy, McDonald, Pitt, Russell, Stanley, Wilson and Mr. Speaker—12.

Absent or not voting, Crisler and Noel.

The recommendation regarding the Annex bill was adopted.

McNaughten gave notice of reconsideration of the vote on the Appropriation bill.

Special order—S. B. No. 42—Reducing the rate of interest on indebtedness

By Russell, A. B. No. 130—Preservation of fish in the waters of this State. Ordered engrossed.

By Pitt, A. B. No. 85—Authorizes Humboldt Commissioners to issue bonds. Passed unanimously.

By Flannigan, substitute for A. B. No. 77—Taxes live stock in Nevada whether assessed in any other State or not. Substitute adopted and bill passed, 27 ayes, 3 absent.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The recommendation regarding the Annex bill was adopted.

McNaughten gave notice of reconsideration of the vote on the Appropriation bill.

Special order—S. B. No. 42—Reducing the rate of interest on indebtedness for land purchases from six to four per cent, now came up for consideration. Noel in the Chair.

Wieland moved that the bill be recommended to the Committee on Public Lands.

Allen of Churchill spoke at length in favor of the bill, both as a matter of relief to the purchasers of State land and as a wholesome financial measure for the State.

Beck opposed the bill, and quoted extensively from statistics in the financial reports of State officers, which, he said, were misleading. Instead of $150,000 the State indebtedness was fully $375,000, and he proceeded to comment thereon in opposition to the bill.

Allen of Churchill responded and pertinently replied to a question or two from Allen of Eureka.

Hogan opposed the bill in a speech of some length. He believed that the men who had acquired possession of immense tracts of the public domain, crowding out less fortunate and less affluent settlers, should pay for their privilege, and he did not want to see the rate of interest reduced. Their threats of throwing up their possessions were not to be feared.

Russell, Gorman and Wieland favored the bill.

McDonald said there had been a long previous discussion of this bill and it seemed as if its discussion would be continued beyond the limits of the session. He wanted this matter brought to a termination and have the bill take its proper course and be disposed of.

Francis opposed the bill, dealing in statistics in support of his argument. The majority of the taxpayer in this State were against the interest reduction proposed in this bill.

Denton wanted to bring this discussion to a close, yet all parties concerned should be dealt squarely by. Two hours had been consumed in its discussion this afternoon and he thought best to send it back to the committee.

The Speaker said that as the bill had never been read it could not be referred to the committee until it had been read. He also stated that a previous motion had been made to indefinitely postpone the bill by McNaughten, as recorded in the minutes, therefore the question before the House in reality was upon the indefinite postponement of the bill.

A motion to adjourn was lost.

A motion to read the bill was lost.

Finally the whole trouble was brought to an abrupt termination by the motion to indefinite postponement being put to vote, resulting as follows:

Yeas—Allen of Eureka, Beals, Beck, Briggs, Conbois, Constant, Francis, Gorman, Greenwood, Hall, Hinman, Hogan, Leidy, McDonald, McNaughten, Noel, Pitt, Russell—13.

Nays—Coryell, Court, Crisler, Denton, Flannigan, Murphy, Newman, Stanley, Wieland, Wilson, Mr. Speaker—11.

Absent—Brookline.

Gorman gave notice of motion for reconsideration of the vote by which this indefinite postponement was passed.

A motion to adjourn was carried immediately, and the House adjourned till 10 A. M. to-morrow.

INCIDENTALS.

The bill for the dismemberment of Washoe county is killed entirely.

The bill to reduce interest on contract State lands from 6 to 4 per cent is also killed.

The General Appropriation bill for the support of the Civil Government of Nevada for 1895-96 foots up to $345,630.

The present legislative session will be played up to the sixty day limit.

STORIES OF PAPER.

HOW WATER MARKS WERE MADE AND WHY THEY CAME INTO USE

Clever Use Made of Them by Ireland in His Shakespearean Forgeries—Elaborate Designs Impressed by the "Dandy" Roller—The Bognu Virginia Mary Letter.

Stories and incidents innumerable are wound up in the art of paper making, and its mechanical processes have afforded to the ingenious story teller many a chance for a thrilling tale.

This is especially true of the system of placing water marks, so called, in various brands or makes of paper.

Perhaps the most interesting true story which has to do with this branch of the industry is that of the famous "Ireland's Confessions."

Ireland had fabricated some Shakespeare manuscripts, which for a long time were accepted as actual. They made such an impression indeed that a number of men, famous at that time for their erudition and for their literary standing, voluntarily prepared a testimonial attesting absolute belief in the authenticity of the manuscripts. To this document these men affixed their signatures and sent the paper broadcast.

The whole of the original edition of the fakes was disposed of in a few hours, and so great was the eagerness for the edition that single copies were disposed of in auction rooms at enormous prices.

Some time after that Ireland himself threw these gentlemen into much sorrow by explaining just how he had had fun with them.

Ireland's story was that the sheet of paper which he used was the outside of several others on which some accounts had been kept during the reign of Charles I. At that time Ireland was wholly unacquainted with the subject of water marks.

I carefully selected," says he, "two half sheets not having any mark what ever on which I penned my first confession." A few pages further on he wrote:

Being thus urged forward to the production of more manuscripts, it became necessary that I should possess a sufficient quantity of old paper to enable me to proceed, in consequence of which I applied to a bookseller, who, for the sum of 5 shillings, suffered me to take from all the folio and quarto volumes in his shop the fly leaves which they contained.

By this means I was amply stored with that commodity, nor did I fear any mention of the circumstances by the bookseller. As I was fully aware, from the variety of water marks which I met in existence at the present day, that my next have constantly been altered since the period of Elizabeth, and being for some time wholly unacquainted with the water marks of that age, I very carefully produced my first specimens of the writing on such sheets of old paper as had no mark whatever.

Having heard it frequently stated that the appearance of such marks on the papers would have greatly tended to establish their validity, I listened to every remark that was made on the subject, and I at length gleaned the intelligence that a jing was the prevalent water mark of the reign of Elizabeth, in consequence of which I inspected all the sheets of old paper then in my possession, and having selected such as had the jing on them I produced the succeeding manuscripts upon these, being careful, however, to mingle with them a certain number of blank leaves that the production on a sudden of so many water marks might not excite suspicion in the breasts of those persons who were most conversant with the manuscripts.

A traveler in Messina was once shown a letter written by the Virgin Mary with her own hand. He remarked that it must indeed be a miracle, since the paper showed by its water mark that it was not made till some centuries after the age of Mary.

It is the greatest mystery to most people how water marks are made. And yet the matter is the simplest thing in the world. In the manufacture of paper the pulp, before it has begun to be dried and after it has been spread on the moving platform, passes under a roller called the "dandy." On this "dandy" is affixed the device which works the water mark.

It is of bent wire, and as the roller presses the paper it presses into it the mark.

In the same manner most elaborate designs and even pictures and intricate representations of whole battle scenes have been done from an engraved plate similar to an electrotype, used in the same manner on the "dandy" roller.

Of course check paper and bank paper is the most important variety distinguished by water marks. In a pair of $5 note molds prepared by the old process there are 8 curved borders, 16 figures, 108 large waves and 240 letters, which had all to be separately secured by the finest wire to the curved surface.

There were 1,056 wires and 87,584 twists and the same repetition where the stout wires were introduced to support the under surface.

In ancient times the water marks were used for the same purposes as the old inn signs. The old inns had dolls and beehives, horses and various other forms as signs. For the same reason the paper makers had some distinguishing mark which made their product distinct from that of other makers.

A very famous mark of the sixteenth century was the handmark—a hand topped with a star. The jing or pot mark gave the name to the "pot" paper, while the foolscap mark used on paper of a certain size gave that size its name, which it retains to this day.

The post paper was so called because it bore a mark of a shield with a post horn on it—London Letters.

Niobrara, the name of a river in Nebraska, is said to mean "wide water."

Don't Sad Case.
Ethel—Don't you think that pair of vases lovely, George?
George (with visions of last night's poker game)—Curse the things! I don't want to hear anything about them.
Ethel has not spoken to George since.—Buffalo Express.

The old sheepskin cloak mentioned by Paul probably cost him about $1, as that was the common price at that time.
